ATTORNEY DENOUNCES OCCOQUAN CONDITIONS

Transfer of Prisoners from District on March 25 Approved in Court Order Signed by Justice Anderson Yesterday.

Since Attorney Matthew E. O'Brien secured writs of habeas corpus for the release of two prisoners confined at Occoquan, Corporation Counsel Thomas and the Commissioners have steadfastly maintained that no prisoners had been removed except by lawful authority, and that the habeas corpus would fail.

Yesterday morning, in the District Supreme Court, F. H. Stephens, of the corporation counsel's office, appeared before Justice Anderson and admitted that unless he could have ratified the action of the District Commissioners all prisoners at Occoquan were liable to be freed.

When the hearing was called upon the petitions of Edgar Fink and William Alexander, in the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Monday last, Mr. O'Brien raised the question that the act of Congress authorizing transfer of prisoners had not been complied with. He held that the Supreme Court of the District had not approved the transfers. The case was continued to this morning to have that point settled.

Yesterday morning Mr. Stephens appeared before Justice Anderson and requested him to sign an order approving the transfer of a hundred prisoners on March 25. Mr. O'Brien was notified, and he protested against the issuance of the order, saying that before the court allowed any prisoners to be transferred to Occoquan, it should know how the prisoners were treated there and the indignities and punishments that they are said to be subjected to. He produced a card on which were a list of questions which each prisoner was required to answer at the Occoquan institution. The questions, Mr. O'Brien alleged, are indecent, and that on refusal to answer these questions prisoners were punished.

Judge Anderson said that the compelling of prisoners to answer some of the questions was an outrage, and that if brought to the attention of the court in a proper proceeding would be stopped, but he said he felt that he must sign the order and allow its validity to be tried out in the habeas corpus proceedings in Virginia.

Mr. O'Brien too exception to the signing of the order, and noted an appeal. He contends that the validity of the law need not be argued, as the law has not been complied with.

The signing of the order yesterday, three months after the removal of the prisoners, he contends, does not help the District's case. He further contends that even had the order been signed before the removal the law is unconstitutional.

MRS. WILSON GETS SIX MONTHS' TERM

Washington Woman Is Sentenced for Rifling Mail.

Mrs. May J. Wilson, of this city, who was arrested here last week for robbing the mails while employed at a drug store in Georgia avenue, was sentenced in the United States Court in New York City yesterday to six months on Blackwell's Island.

The pretty young woman, who is only twenty-four years old, wept copiously when sentence was pronounced. She said her husband died recently, and that she had to support her four-year-old child, now in the custody of her parents, who live at 281 O street northwest.

She professed penitence for her misdeeds, and made a clean breast of all she had done. It developed she had committed not one offense, but four, two in Washington and two in New York. She worked in substitution 241, in New York, and stole nine registered letters, taking from them a total of $340.

Under an assumed name she worked in substitution 241, in New York, where she stole five insurance policies and a check for $50 from registered letters. Then she came to Washington, where she found work in a substitution and stole a registered letter containing a small sum of money. She forged an indorsement for the check stolen in New York and cashed it here.

DOUBLE TRACKS URGED.

Congress Heights Citizens Demand Better Street Railway Facilities.

Urging the construction of double tracks for the lines running between their suburb and Anacostia, the Public Improvement Association of Congress Heights held a meeting last night, in which a wide variety of civic affairs was discussed.

It was stated that the Washington Railway and Electric Company is willing to double track the line in question, but objected to paving the street for three feet beyond the tracks, as Engineer Commission Judson has required them to.

Only two feet of paving are required by law, according to the speakers, and the cost of the additional foot would be $1,700, an expense which the railroad company does not desire to incur.

The purchase of the Wilson tract of 100 acres for a public park was considered, as was also an addition to the present school building, which is now greatly overcrowded.

Maine Calson Is Successor.

Gen. Bixby, Chief of Engineers, who has returned from an inspection of the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana Harbor, said yesterday that the calson which has been built around the wreck of the vessel has met every expectation of the designers.

Wilkinson May Be Advanced.

It was announced at the Department of Justice yesterday that James H. Wilkinson, special attorney for the government in the best case, will receive consideration in the selection of a new United States attorney at Chicago to succeed Edwin J. Sims, who will soon retire.

VERDICT IN VONDERMILLER TRIAL DUE THIS MORNING

Slayer of Brother-in-law Awaits Finding of Jury

Dramatic Scene in Alexandria County Courthouse as Murder Case Nears End.

Louis Vondermiller probably will know his fate at 9 o'clock this morning. At that hour the jury will return a verdict, unless it is hopelessly divided on the question at issue. It was locked up at 7 o'clock last night, by Judge Thornton, after having spent two hours in an effort to reach an agreement.

The final scenes at Alexandria County courthouse were dramatic. In the morning the jury visited the Stryker station, where Vondermiller killed his brother-in-law, John Reeves, one month ago, and it was nearly noon before the court resumed its sitting. Discussion of the court's charge to the jury occupied the next hour and a half. The only objection interposed by the defense related to the legal obligation of the defense to prove the insanity of the accused when it was the justification of crime.

Commonwealth's Attorney Mackey then followed with the argument of the prosecution.

ANACOSTIA.

The funeral of Albert Soper, of 1313 V street, Anacostia, was held yesterday morning from St. Teresa's Church, and interment was made in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Soper was stricken suddenly while at work on Monday morning at the Washington steel and ordnance plant at Celadon, Md.

He was in the act of operating one of the gas-producing machines when he fell to the floor and struck on his head. Samuel Cook, another employee, happened by at that time and immediately sent a hurry call to Dr.

A. N. Meloy, of Congress Heights, but life was extinct when the physician arrived. He had been residing in Anacostia for several years and was sixty-two years of age at his death. His wife and two children, James and Mary, survive him.

The playground at the Ketchum School building in Anacostia has been opened for the season, and about 500 children were present at the opening day.

Work will be begun in the near future on the rebuilding of the draw of the new Anacostia bridge, and lumber for this work is now arriving at the bridge.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Boyd, who has been an inmate of the Ruppert Home for the Aged in Anacostia for several years, and whose death occurred late Monday evening, will be held this afternoon, and interment will be made in Prospect Hill Cemetery.

The German Orphan Asylum for Children and the Ruppert Home for the Aged, both institutions of Anacostia, will be benefited by the will of the late Mrs. Caroline Apple, whose death occurred recently in Washington. Each will receive $500. During her life Mrs. Apple did much toward the maintenance of these institutions.

The "Palmed" Mattings from China Are the Finest Values in the World

There is one certain sort of matting above all others in quality and durability, because constantly during the process of weaving a strong Chinaman stands over the warp and with the palm of his hand forces the weave closer and closer together. This gives a body and a polish that could be given to matting in no other way.

In our stock you will find a rare assortment of these "palmed" Mattings. Of course, they are among the higher priced grades, but we recommend them as the most economical purchases.

To give you an extra special opportunity to buy the best at the lowest prices ever quoted, we shall sell, for a few days, the

Regular 50c Palmed Mattings at 35c

There are 20 handsome patterns from which to choose.

Not only these grades, but all grades sold here, are guaranteed to give a proper amount of wear, or we replace them absolutely without cost.

We measure your rooms, charge only for what is used to cover the floors, and do the laying free. This gives you the lowest price without buying full rolls, which usually contain more than you need.

Our prices are very low on all grades of Linoleum and Oilcloth. We carry the most reliable qualities that can be found in the market, and save you trouble and expense by laying them without extra charge.
